

Cutting edge research at the Gallipoli Medical Research Foundation

If you have ever taken any type of medicine or been treated for an illness you have benefited from medical research.

It can take many years and millions of dollars to development a treatment from an initial idea to a safe treatment in patients.

Founded in 2005 The Gallipoli Medical Research Foundation (GMRF) exists to support the efforts of researchers to find causes, cures, better management methods and improved medications and treatments for a range of major conditions which affect the health of veterans, patients of Greenslopes Private Hospital and the Australian community at large.

The vision of the GMRF is to become an internationally renowned centre of excellence in health and medical research, improving future health standards for the Australian community.

In doing so, the Foundation will provide a lasting legacy to the veteran and war widow community, and the community at large.
